Card.
This may certify that I, having been acquainted with Mr. John N. Farnham, of this city, for some twenty years last past, can most cheerfully recommend him to the sick and afflicted as a person possessing very high attainments for a gentleman nurse. As a nurse, he has had much experience with the sick in private families and in our hospitals. He makes the business of nursing a profession, and he honors it and excels in it. He is mild, courteous and humane towards his patients. He is vigilant and untiring in his efforts to supply their every want. He is true to the physician or surgeon who may be in attendance. He carries out the treatment prescribed to the very letter. When the physician or surgeon returns, after being absent for a time, Mr. Farnham gives him an accurate account of all that has been done and the results. This is just and honorable towards all parties. Mr. Farnham is a blessing to his race and is doing great good to suffering humanity. That his career of usefulness may ever end wherever necessity requires, is the sincere desire of his humble servant.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle & Burr, and communications intended for publication should be addressed: "Editor of Whig and Courier."

THURSDAY, DEC. 16, 1880.

David Davis stepped on Voorhees.

It took Wade Hampton some time to get ashamed.

Who is going to see the Confederates evacuate Washington in March?

The Press sits down on Tibbles and pours cool water on the Ponca business.

The Boston Herald came out for Prince for Mayor, the morning after election.

That stalwart resolution of the Republican caucus brought the Democratic coon right down.

The Secretary of the Democratic National Committee didn't get a Princely majority for Mayor of Boston.

Gillette, of Iowa, introduced the whole Greenback platform the other day as a substitute for the refunding bill.

The Boston Traveller, which has insisted upon Plaisted for Governor of Maine, naturally favored Prince for Mayor of Boston.

Portland has succeeded in raising $80 for the Poncas. This will buy hair enough to furnish each of the squaws with frizzles and bangs.—Boston Post.

Calm your apprehensions. Bass didn't forge the Chinese letter,—or the Liverpool affidavits.—Commercial.

No? Well, what did he try his hand on?

The Republicans of the third New Hampshire District on Tuesday nominated Hon. Ossian Ray, of Lancaster, for Congress in place of Hon. E. W. Farr, deceased. Mr. Ray is one of the most prominent lawyers of the State and is now U. S. District Attorney.

If Mr. Blaine will only push the bill to a successful issue which he proposes to introduce in the Senate this week, whereby letter postage is to be reduced from three to two cents, he will win an honor far more enduring than any attached to the position in General Garfield's Cabinet which well-meaning but injudicious friends urge him to accept.—Providence Press.

VENNOR'S PREDICTIONS. Mr. Vennor wrote the Toronto Mail Dec. 8th as follows:

After a rather severe gale, with snow, on the 15th or 16th at Toronto and adjacent parts, a steady and very cold term will set in and continue, with but brief intermission, up to the 20th inst. During this period frequent snow-falls are likely to occur. Sleighing will be good from the 17th to the end of the month.

The Confederate Senate has voted to restore Fitz-John Porter to the army on the retired list, and the ex-rebels of the House will doubtless be grateful enough to do likewise. But the action of the President is still required, and it would be carrying "conciliation" pretty far, even for President Hayes, to aid in putting such an affront upon General Garfield, who was a member of the Court that tried and sentenced Porter.

THE BOSTON ELECTION. At the Boston city election Tuesday the total vote was 42,034 against 54,246 in November. Mayor Prince barely secured re-election by 498 majority, while the majority over Garfield in November was 2,371; and Prince's plurality last year was 2,614. The Journal says nine of the twelve Aldermen elected were first nominated by the Republican convention, including five Republicans and four Democrats put up on a non-partisan ticket. The Council will consist of 45 Republicans and 26 Democrats, with one tie to be decided.

The latest form of it has appeared in the N. Y. Times in the shape of "A gentleman who has stood close to Gen. Garfield all through his political career, and who knows as much of his habits of thought and bias of mind as any man living, and who has suggested some ideas concerning General Garfield's course as President." Now, would it not be well for these "intimate friends" etc., etc., to take a rest, and let Gen. Garfield tell us at the proper time and in his own way what his "course" is to be? These newspaper inaugurals don't yield bushels enough to the acre. There is too much "intimate friend" and too little Garfield.

Yielding to the overpowering conviction that some member of the Legislative Judiciary Committee should be heard from on the Governor question, Nathaniel Wilson, Esq., of Orono, has come forward in the Commercial to fill up the gap. He has a great deal to say about sustaining and honoring the great decisions of the Supreme Court last winter, but he does not state whether he writes as a member of the Judiciary Committee of the legal Legislature of Maine, or of the bogus, revolutionary body which he and others kept up until thrice admonished by the Court. The opinions of Garcelon and Joe Smith are now in order.

Our Consul at Geneva, Switzerland, in a recent despatch to the State Department, says: "The value of choice cattle, raised in large numbers in Switzerland for the Paris and French market, has been sensibly diminished by the importation of American cattle and fresh meat. The sale of preserved meats and fruits from the United States is so well established and advertised that it may be left to take care of itself, but it would, I think, be worth while to call the attention of manufacturers of butter and cheese to the possibility of effecting larger sales in Central and Southern Europe. I learn, too, that a profitable market may be found here for the more nutritious brands of American flour."

The Bangor Commercial tries to turn a statement of the Journal with reference to the loss of the 4th and 5th districts to the Republicans in 1878, into a personal reflection on Capt. Boutelle, the Republican candidate in the 4th district. The Commercial goes far out of the way for this purpose. The Republicans, under the gallant leadership of Capt. Boutelle, reduced an anti-Republican majority of 2,500 in 1878 to about 800 in 1880. And next time he will wipe this out and score a very large majority the other way.—Lewiston Journal.

There was really nothing in the Journal's editorial which could possibly be construed as such a reflection, but it made a specially good-natured reference to this District. Nobody here ever pays any attention to the Commercial's mendacity.

A RED HOT ORGAN OF THE SOLID SOUTH.

[From the New York Times.]

There is very good reason to believe that a large number of the Southern Democrats have learned a salutary lesson from the recent elections, and that in the future they will not attempt to successfully carry on a campaign by reviving sectional issues. Still, it is by no means certain that there are not an equally large number of the same class of citizens who, instead of having their eyes opened by recent events, have by them been made more bigoted and intolerant. It is only upon this theory that the existence of a remarkable Memphis publication known as the Solid South can be accounted for. This journal, established since the election, in its first number, which is now before us, boldly announces its hostility to the Union, and on that ground asks for the support of Southern men. Further, it calls upon the Southern people to "destroy the demoralizing free school system. Enter an oath of eternal hostility to the stalwarts until that party is purged of its treasonable heresies. Fling policy to the winds whenever it conflicts with principle. Glorify the doctrines of JEFFERSON and JEFFERSON DAVIS—hurrah for the bonnie blue. Inculcate into the minds of the children that the South was right, right, and forever right, in its conflict with the murderous mass-troopers of Yankeedom. Make treason odious by making the memory of the Lincolns, Stantons, and John Browns forever infamous. Nullify the war legislation of Yankeedom. Obey no law that usurps a single power or prerogative of a State. Preserve State sovereignty at the cost of the general Government itself if need be. Quell the turbulent time-trimmers in the party by relegating them to the rear. Stand by the rights of secession at whatever risk. Teach in school, college, and university, through the press, and in the forum, that the Union is simply a partnership that can be constitutionally dissolved whenever one or more of the States shall so demand. Unfurl the State flag high over the paltry Stars and Stripes. Withdraw Southern trade from Yankee markets and transfer it to the Old World. Extirpate the mind-sucking policy bummers from the party camp and councils, and yield never a Democratic truth or Democratic teaching of the past." Of course, it will be now in order for some eloquent gentleman of the South to declare that these sentiments quoted literally, are not indorsed by "the great people of his section. Such a declaration will do very well as far as it goes. Still, so long as such journals as the Solid South can find not only countenance, but substantial support and advertising patronage, even in the comparatively conservative city of Memphis, the people of the North may be pardoned for believing that many citizens of the cotton States not quite so tired of sectional strife as they continually pretend to be.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Hon. G. E. King, ex-Attorney General of New Brunswick, has been appointed Judge of the Superior Court, N. B., in place of the late Judge Fisher.

Kenward Philp had the effrontery to lecture at the Brooklyn Academy of Music last Friday on the subject of "Morey-Antique."

The San Francisco Chronicle says the Republicans have a good-round majority, on joint ballot, in the Legislature of California, and will be certain to elect the successor to Senator Booth.

The London Spectator declares that "America excites the half-awe-struck admiration of the world at her material prosperity," and that everybody who has any money at all now holds some American securities.

The father of Sir Edward Thornton, the present British Minister to the United States, was the Secretary of the British Legation when the seat of Government was established in Washington at the beginning of the present century, and now Sir Edward's only son, Mr. Edward Thornton, Jr., a recent graduate from the University of Cambridge, comes here as an attache of the Legation.

The Major-Generals of the Army in the order of their rank are as follows: Hancock, Schofield, McDowell. The Brigadiers in like order are Pope, Howard, Terry, Augur, Crook, Miles.

Ohio has the President, the President-elect, a member of the Cabinet, two members of the United States Supreme Court, the General of the Army, the Minister to France, the Minister to Japan, the Minister to the Hawaiian Islands, the Chief Signal Officer of the Army and dozens of other public functionaries too numerous to mention.—N. Y. Herald.

REMINISCENCES. Two names in the bulletin of promotions telegraphed yesterday, brought to us vivid recollections of the days of the war. In the spring of 1864 the writer was serving as an officer on board the U. S. Steamer Sassacus, commanded by Lieutenant-Commander Francis A. Roe. For his gallant encounter with the rebel ram Albemarle early in May, Lt. Com. Roe was advanced five numbers in his grade. On being promoted for the same engagement we were detached from the Sassacus and ordered to the Minnesota then commanded by Lieutenant-Commander John H. Upshur, to whom we reported for duty. Since then these two naval veterans have advanced to the grades of Commander and Captain, and the latest bulletin from Washington shows that the two new Commodores just appointed are our old commanding officers, to whom we extend our heartiest congratulations.

Concerning Sarah Bernhardt's bold methods of advertising herself, "Templeton," the correspondent of the Hartford Courant, writes from Boston:

"She drives out here in a superb carriage made for her, which is drawn by four horses. This is her own method of stimulating the personal interest she excites. Barnum himself could hardly be broader in his devices to draw a crowd. On Tuesday she rode with this array to a jeweller's story on Washington street. Mr. Jarrett, who accompanied her, waited upon her into the store. Instantly the store was crowded with people. The throng had followed the coach. They pushed in till the doors were locked against them. Then they pushed against the windows, climbed up to look into them, and the street was as the scene of a mass meeting. The embarrassed jewellers for a few moments knew not what was to become of their treasures. Fortunately the actress made prompt selections, and moved off with her equipage, only to carry the crowd with her."

Mr. P. T. Barnum, the great showman, who is lying ill in New York city, asked the prayers of the clergy and congregations of Bridgeport, Conn., his home, on Sunday, in the following appeal:

In a spirit of firm reliance on the omnipotent arm of Him who doeth all things well, I hereby request the prayers of all the congregations of Bridgeport for the blessing to rest upon me, with thanksgiving for all the mercies which I have hitherto so abundantly received at his hands.

P. T. BARNUM.

Agricultural Society.

LEWISTON, Dec. 15. At a special meeting of the State Agricultural Society this afternoon it was voted to ratify the action of the Trustees in settling the claim of the Presumpscot Park Association for fifteen hundred dollars.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS—Third Session.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.

Senate.

The following bills were introduced and referred: For the retirement of small legal tender notes; to regulate the civil service; to prohibit assessments or contributions for political purposes.

A resolution to inquire into the alleged abuse of power by the United States Court was tabled.

The Senate resumed consideration of the bill devoting a part of the proceeds of the sale of public lands to public education. Burnside and Morrill supported the bill.

Mr. Burnside spoke briefly in support of the bill, and was followed by Mr. Brown, of Georgia, who strongly favored the measure in the interests of the blacks at the South. A vote is expected to be reached on the bill to-morrow.

A bill for the relief of Samuel A. Lowe was taken up on motion of Mr. Cockrell, Democrat.

Mr. Ingalls, Republican, said Lowe's claim was for the unauthorized compilation of the "bogus statutes" or slave code of Kansas, which he denounced in strong language stating that the code was based on the laws of Missouri.

Mr. Vest, Democrat, of Missouri, vigorously repudiated the latter charge, and said the people sent out by the Plymouth church and other pillars of God and morality, headed by that old scoundrel John Brown, who afterward justly expiated his crimes on the scaffold, were responsible for much of the violence of that unfortunate time.

Ingalls and Edmunds defended John Brown and after Cockrell vainly endeavored to obtain a vote on the bill the Senate adjourned.

House.

Bill declaring the roads between all life saving stations post roads was referred.

Bill for the retirement of small legal tender notes was referred.

The Senate bill passed granting a pension of $100 a month to the widow of President Tyler.

The House then went into committee on the fortification appropriation bill.

Mr. Reed, of Maine, in anticipating the amendment from the Military Committee increasing the appropriation for the protection, preservation and repair of fortifications and other works of defence from $100,000 to $500,000, said the condition of the seacoast defences was disgraceful in the extreme. In the present financial condition of the country Congress could afford to look the matter fairly in the face. The seacoast from one end to another could not be defended against the navies of the second or third class European powers. To-day the best harbors in the country could be entered by the war ships of Europe safely to themselves and with the utmost injury to the harbors. As the country was obliged to meet the possibility of war happening in the lifetime of persons now living, it was worth while for Congress to face the extent of the danger of war and to meet it, though the chance of war be but one out of fifty. A navy was not the best thing to meet it with. A conclusive reason for this was that the country had no navy at the present time; and for the future it would cost more to build such a navy as would be needed, than to construct fortifications. Beside no navy could be ubiquitous. There was but one way in which to meet the danger and that, was by the force of modern science in the matter of fortifications which had kept pace with modern science in the matter of ordnance. To-day forts could be built impervious to every ordnance brought to bear against them.

The fortification bill was then read for amendments, and the amendment referred to by Mr. Reed was submitted.

Mr. Randall (Dem.) of Pennsylvania, made a long speech against it on the score of economy.

Mr. Reed remarked that economy should not become parsimony and penury. He believed a hostile iron clad could enter the port of New York and in a few hours levy a contribution ten times greater than the amount asked for in the amendment. The money England had expended on her navy and coast defences had been well spent in the protection she had enjoyed. The gentleman [Randall] could see no speck of war in the clouds, but were there to be no lightning rods put up until lightning was flashing. The very object and necessity of coast defences was to have them there before war came. The gentleman had been talking about hasty earthworks, but he would like to see earthworks thrown up in Maine in December.

After further discussion the amendment was rejected. The bill was then reported to the House and passed.

A bill appropriating $1,800,000 for the improvement of the Mississippi river was ordered printed and recommitted.

Adjourned.

FOR THE LADIES. Worth uses three pieces of brocade of the same pattern and of different colors in one gown. Chenille embroidery on a plush ground is heavier and richer looking than any other work. It is usually combined with masses of bead work in the same color as the ground. Embroidery on leather is the newest decorative work. It is not especially difficult but it is necessary to be careful in doing it, as every needle mark shows on the leather, and a false stitch spoils the work. Marabout plush is made of marabout down and is waterproof. It is only manufactured in black, olive and mouse color, and the trimming is either beads matching the plush itself, or else jewelled butterflies and bugs. The elegance of the stuffs composing the evening dresses of this winter will, it is thought, make it necessary to adopt a more elaborate style of dressing the hair. English women still arrange their locks with perfect simplicity. Among the handkerchiefs prepared for holiday gifts are some of cream white, ivory and pearl silk, with hem-stitched diamonds in the corner, and these are preferred to all others. Some very good kerchiefs are of American Surah. Cork card-cases, pocket books, pen-holders and pen-racks are made by the thousands this winter, and are supplanting those of olive wood and leather, for they are both cheap and durable, and make an admirable back-ground for decoration.

KENNEBEC ICE NEWS. We take the following from the Gardiner Journal. Mr. Haley and Capt. Jos. Nickerson drove over the Maine Ice Co.'s pond in a sleigh on Thursday last. The inhabitants along the banks gave them a rousing reception by cheers and waving handkerchiefs. The filling of dirt and rock was finished Wednesday and we can congratulate Capt. E. D. Haley on the completion of this important enterprise. The dam was built to stay and is a complete success so far as being strong and tight; the water is fast growing fresh. The method adopted for taking out the salt water works well, doing all that Capt. H. expected. Acting upon the well-known law that salt water is heavier than fresh and the two do not readily mix unless violently agitated by the winds, a flume was put in just at the low water line, thus giving access to it at the outer end. At the inner or pond end a right angle was made, continuing to near the bottom of the pond. As the tide recedes, the water in the pond, by the law of gravitation, passes out through the flume, but as it can only enter from the bottom, the heavy or salt water is forced upward by the weight of the fresher water above it. As the tide flows the outer gate of the flume closes itself and no salt water enters. At the next ebb the emptying process is repeated until the water in the pond becomes entirely freshened, which it has now done to an extent that it is palatable for drinking, yet still the water running from the flume is salt. The effect so soon obtained must be quite a surprise to many persons who thought the salt water would have to be pumped out at a great expense. The ice is eight to nine inches at present and of better quality than could have been expected in so short a time.

The Overseer of the poor for the east side has under his care three old ladies whose united ages amount to two hundred and ninety-four years, and range at ninety-four, ninety-eight and one hundred and two years. At the Alms House they have several men and women between eighty and ninety years and three over ninety. One of the women aged ninety-eight has kept her bed most of the time for fourteen years.

AN ASSAULT. Mr. House, messenger for the Governor and Council, had quite a tussle with an Augusta rough, Tuesday night. It seems that the rough made an attack on Col. Woodbury, of the Valuation Commission, near the State House, and had knocked that gentleman down when Mr. House appeared on the scene. He immediately collared the fellow and after bouncing him around on the sidewalk gave him into the hands of the police, who took charge of the fellow up.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Hindoo Exhibition.

In another column, will be found the announcement of the novel exhibition to be given in Norombega Hall on Friday evening, 24th inst. The tickets will be on sale at D. Bugbee & Co's. on Monday morning next. The Boston Herald, in a lengthy notice of the entertainment, speaks as follows of some of the tricks performed by the Hindoo jugglers:

But the orange-tree growing up from the seed, and increasing in size until it bears fruit, belongs to a class of jugglery more advanced than that which has been previously described, and this trick these Indians introduce, together with the renowned "basket trick." In the latter the youth Sajad is bound hand and foot, and then tucked away in a bag made of coarse twine, for all the world an exaggerated cabbage net, into which he is condensed and the top pursed up and tied with a multiplicity of knots. An oval basket is at hand having an opening nearly the size of the largest circumference of the basket, and to this opening a cover is fitted. The cover is removed and the boy in his cabbage-net is laid face downward over the opening. The boy is large and the basket is small, as the performers endeavor to explain in their rattling tongue. The basket-cover is placed upon the boy's back, as he lies there, and over all a sheet is thrown. One native juggler performs upon the drums, and his performance is very skillful, too, though not much can be said for its musical effects. Unlike the Arab music, the Indian songs, however, are of decided melody, and regular in their phrasing and successions. The youth under the sheet soon frees himself from his bonds, as is evidenced by the appearance outside of the bagnet and the things which had been used upon him. At last, when the sheet is removed, all is quiet and the cover is squarely over the opening of the basket. The juggler prods the basket through and through with his sword, and finally removes the cover and stows away as much of his person as is possible in the basket. Of course the trick ends by the appearance of the boy from the depths of the basket, out from which he leaps as free as air.

A STEAMBOAT ON RUNNERS.

Removal of the Little Steamer Yosemite.

The Lewiston Journal says: The steamer Yosemite, purchased by the Maine Central Railroad, from Mr. C. A. Hooper, was started on its tour from Lake Auburn to Winthrop, Monday, with fourteen oxen at the bow.

Near the East Auburn church one of the big sleds under the steamer broke, and there was a hitch in the proceedings. Another start was made at half-past eight o'clock, Tuesday morning, and just before the bells rang twelve, the first steamer that ever came into Lewiston, was making across Main street bridge at the rate of two knots an hour.

The steamer weighs fifteen or eighteen tons, with her engine and machinery out. She was placed on three very stout sleds—two under the stern and one at the bow. Prof. Clark was in command. It would have been entirely out of place for Road-Master Wagg, who represented the Maine Central, to have put any less distinguished old salt in the pilot house. When the steamer came up the rising ground on lower Main street, the Professor's red scarf was flaming from the peak of the craft; and the Professor had his leeward eye on the lookout for breakers ahead, while his windward optic kept in awe a big crowd of small boys.

The steamer had fine luck on its trip. The feat of riding down and up the great gully on Union street, Auburn, was successfully accomplished. Two extra yokes of cattle were hitched on, and slowly but surely, the steamer was pulled through the gully. On account of the railroad bridge the steamer couldn't have been taken through Turner street.

There were seven yokes of oxen pulling the steamer, when it arrived in Lewiston. The drivers were Messrs. George Hodgkins, Reuben Stewart, Fred B. Jeffreys, and Rufus W. Sanborn, of Lewiston, and Eben Eveleth, of Auburn. It was just noon when the steamer made Haymarket square.

"We'll halt here," shouted Admiral Clark, jumping down from the bow.

"Whoa-up!" shouted the drivers, and the steamer came to anchor.

"Can't you get along without my force now?" asked one of the drivers.

"No, sir-ee," responded the Admiral, "We want your team till we get through."

After dinner, the teams were hitched up again, and the steamer started for Barker's Mills. At this point it will be loaded on the cars, and transported by rail to Winthrop. It will be landed on the shore of Lake Maranocook and thoroughly repaired. Next spring it will be launched. The removal of the steamer was a crowning achievement, both for Roadmaster Wagg and the nautical genius of Lewiston, Professor Clark.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

Fellows' Hypophosphites differs from all hitherto produced, in composition, mode of preparation, and in general effects, and is sold in its original form. It was developed from actual personal experiment, embracing many months, while the inventor was suffering from pulmonary consumption, and nervous debility. The good results following its first use have since been repeated in numerous other cases.

HELP ONE ANOTHER? Of course. What else are we here for? For example: Mr. Asa F. Bearse, of Cotuit, Mass., had been troubled for years with diseased liver and could get no relief. He was not fit for business, and carried his life like a burden on his back. Just then his friend, Capt. Handy, said: "Ass, why don't you send to Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., and get a bottle of his 'Favorite Remedy.' It will only cost you a dollar, and may do you good." Bearse did so, and after a short time was sound as the dollar with which he bought the medicine. A HAPPY CLERGYMAN. Rev. E. F. L. A LIVING CLOCK. The human system is a kind of machine. If one part is seriously out of order the whole goes wrong. The blood in circulation is the mainspring. Keep this all right and you will not suffer from kidney and liver disorders, piles and constipation. ONE EXPERIENCE FROM MANY.

I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and I used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural but when I told them what had helped me, they said "Hurrah for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy.—The Mother.—Home Journal.

They contain no opium, morphine or quinine, and are not a purgative, but regulate the bowels and cure constipation by curing or removing the causes of it. They have a tonic action upon the skin and a direct, quieting effect upon the nervous system, simply by feeding its ten thousand hungry nerves with the elements that are lacking in their nature or create nerve matter and give power to force and invigorate the nerves, and in that way increase mental force, endurance and brilliancy of mind. Nobody that has a nervous sickness can neglect to take them two or three months in such case, simply as a nerve food, if for no other purpose. and

To the Judge of Probate of the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, administratrix of the estate of Hill Sinclair, late of Levant, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that said goods and chattels, rights and credits of said deceased are not sufficient to pay his just debts and charges of administration by about thirteen hundred dollars.

Wherefore your petitioner prays your Honor to grant her power to sell by license at public or private sale, and convey the whole of said deceased real estate, of the deceased, (including the reversion of the widow's dower therein), as the interest would be promoted thereby, stated by a sale of any portion, viz: All the real estate of which the deceased died seized, situate in said Levant, including his late homestead estate, to salary and debts, expenses of sale, and charges of administration.
